Summary

Senior product designer with 12 years of experience across B2B SaaS, loyalty programs, B2C e-commerce and software development. My background in advertising and marketing helps me connect business opportunities with user needs, and turn them into designs that say exactly what needs to be said, the way customers want to hear it.

I've shaped 0 to 1 products, built and contributed to design systems, built an in-house creative team, helped create design cultures from scratch, mentored junior designers and designed campaigns that reached millions of people. Along the way I've talked to hundreds of users and customers, always designing for the business KPIs and for experiences people understand and want to use.

Experience

Senior Product Designer · Funnel · Stockholm · Nov 2021 to present

One of Funnel's first designers, helping build the design culture of a Marketing Data intelligence platform. Worked across data integrations, onboarding, information architecture, data activation, advanced measurement, marketing reporting and the design system.

- Activate: Designed Activate from 0 to 1, a product that sends conversion data back to 7 ad platforms including Google, Meta and LinkedIn. Validated every release with design partners, and created sales collateral, workshops and launch content, including a featured video and introductions to customer-facing teams in Boston and Stockholm.
- Marketing Reporting: Leading design for Dashboards, a feature adopted by roughly half of Funnel's users, improving its visualization capabilities. Currently redesigning how users build dashboards with an AI-first approach.
- Product-led growth: Handpicked for the team driving acquisition, activation and onboarding. Designed Solutions Hub, connecting the website and product so new users could self-serve to a free account and reach value faster. This increased dashboard adoption by 37% and generated 34% more sales-qualified leads.
- Data integrations: Redesigned the connection flow for Google Analytics, one of Funnel's top 10 connectors. Users rated it 4.5 out of 5, data-mismatch support tickets dropped 30%, and the new flow became the standard for all connectors.
- Information architecture: Restructured Funnel's navigation around how users actually think, replacing a legacy structure that mirrored the organization.
- Advanced Measurement: Dug into marketing mix modeling and multi-touch attribution with the Hamburg team, simplifying Media Plan flows for marketers and making them easier for consultants to demo.
- Design system and illustration: Contributed to and maintained Funnel's design system. Created its product illustration system, 17 animated illustrations built as components and adopted across the whole product.
- Design culture and facilitation: Facilitated dozens of workshops: brainstorming and ideation, discovery, prioritisation, roadmap and planning, design sprints, retrospectives and team building.

UX/UI Designer (Consultant) · Insidelink · Remote from Stockholm · Jul 2020 to Oct 2021

Consultant for Alelo, a Brazilian financial services company handling benefits, incentives and corporate expenses for major employers.

- Design system: Led the creation of Alelo's Figma design system, auditing and merging 15+ libraries into around 500 shared components for 10 products and 12 designers, while adapting to a recent rebrand. Built to improve consistency, speed up time to market and cut design and development costs.

- B2B loyalty: Designed the concept for Alelo's B2B loyalty program, letting corporate clients earn and redeem rewards while discovering products suited to their needs.
- E-commerce: Contributed to the redesign of Alelo's e-commerce experience, focused on engagement and easier navigation.
- Ran workshops, usability tests, user research and benchmarking to ground decisions in real behavior.
